

Health care for children called 'a national scandal'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Children's Defense Fund charged in a new report Friday that inadequate health care for American children has become "a national scandal."

"We know a lot about child health, yet American children are nowhere near as healthy as they could be. Good health is not distributed equitably among the nation's children," said the report entitled "Doctors and Dollars Are Not Enough."

The nonprofit organization, formed in 1973 to serve as an advocate for children, said that more money and more doctors are not nearly as important as providing programs offering "warm, sensitive, comprehensive, high-quality health services to children and families at a cost that is reasonable and predictable."

'Doctors, dollars are not enough'

"One of the most startling findings in surveying healthcare costs over the past decade," the report said, "is that it is precisely those programs which have alleviated problems of access and provided comprehensive services which have also dealt successfully with escalating costs."

"While Medicaid costs have risen, often steeply, the costs of programs providing services in comprehensive, organized settings have been lower and relatively steady for adults," it said. "They have gone down for children."

In addition to state Medicaid cutbacks, the report said that a number of federally funded children and youth projects and neighborhood health centers are experiencing cutbacks from reduced grants or grants that do not take inflation into account.

In one New York community, for example, the children and youth project has received the same

Cutbacks cited in youth projects amount of money for four years, but the hospital has recently unionized, nonsupervisory salaries climbed 20 to 30 per cent, overhead costs have increased and the number of persons on the payroll was cut 15 per cent a year ago.

Arguing that comprehensive child health centers can reduce costs, the report said that the average cost per child seen in 59 children and youth projects in 28 states decreased between 1968 and 1972, from $201 to $125, because of routine preventive care and followup treatments.

Yet, under the present system, it said, the United States ranks 15th worldwide in infant mortality rates and, after infancy, minority children aged 1 to 4 years die at a rate 70 per cent higher than white children.

"The statistics are a national scandal," the report said.

"We have made amazing progress in this country, showing how child health services can be improved," said Marian Wright Edelman, director of the Children's Defense Fund.

"Let us not turn our backs on what we have learned, for that means turning our backs on millions of children with unmet health needs," she said.

Gunmen storm hotels, kidnap 26 political refugees in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Heavily armed men stormed into two hotels in predawn hours Friday and herded out at least two dozen political refugees including two teenagers, United Nations refugee agency officials said.

The gunmen smashed up rooms, hit the exiles and stole their money and personal documents, according to refugees who were left behind. Witnesses in one hotel said the gunmen numbered about 30 and shouted "Police, police," but did not produce identification.

The raids occurred less than 48 hours after gunmen ransacked a refugee office and stole master lists containing the names and addresses of perhaps as many as 8,000 political exiles from neighboring nations.

Witnesses said the gunmen who raided the hotels rented for refugees had lists and asked for specific persons, but took all males present except for some sick persons and young children.

They said none of the armed men appeared concerned that they might be interrupted by authorities, although one hotel is only a half block from a police station.

The witnesses said 26 persons were abducted, but local U.N. officials put the number at 25.

Dr. Enrique Pinto, a representative of the U.N. High Commission for Refugees (UNHCR) here, said the rounded-up refugees were all Chileans except for one Uruguayan and one Paraguayan. All but the Paraguayan were reported under UNHCR care.

Pinto said he reported the matter to government authorities.

HELICOPTER CRASH SURVIVOR

Griffith Park rangers stand by body of Ronald Corbin, Los Angeles Police Dept. helicopter pilot who was critically injured Friday in a crash at Griffith Park. A pilot trainee was killed in the crash that came during a training flight low over the hills.

One critical; craft burns in Griffith Park

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A police helicopter on a training flight crashed into a hill in Griffith Park and burned Friday afternoon, killing one officer and critically injuring another.

Witnesses said the Bell Model G helicopter had been skimming low over the hill as if searching for something when it disappeared over the crest and went down.

"I heard the engine making a different noise, then I heard a pop, and then flames burst up," said Belinda Bryant, 24, who was having her picture taken by a companion in the wooded park. "I saw the big propeller (the rotor) fly up, it did a cartwheel."

Her companion, photographer Bob Seidemann, 34, said they ran to the crash site and saw the surviving officer, clad in a scorched flight suit, lying at the foot of the hill.

"He was burned on his face and arms, and he was saying, 'I don't believe it,'" said Miss Bryant. "There was nothing left of the helicopter. The other pilot didn't have a chance."

The dead officer was identified as Jeffrey Lindenberg, 30, of Canoga Park, a seven-year veteran of the force who was a pilot trainee.

The survivor, Ronald Corbin, 29, of Simi Valley, was taken by a Fire Department helicopter to the Sherman Oaks Community Hospital Burn Center, where he was reported to be in "very critical" condition with third-degree burns over two-thirds of his body.

Abortion scores: one for every four births

ATLANTA (AP) — The first nationwide survey of abortions shows there was one legal abortion for every four live births in the United States in 1974, according to the National Center for Disease Control (CDC).

There were 763,476 legal abortions performed, an increase of 24 per cent over 1973. Most women who had abortions were young, white, unmarried and in the early stages of pregnancy, the Atlanta-based federal health agency reported Friday.

The CDC said the report included the most recent statistics available and represented the first time that each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia had reported on abortions within its borders.

The report said 87 per cent of the abortions occurred within the women's home states in 1974, compared with 75 per cent in 1973 and 56 per cent in 1972.

It showed that 64 per cent of the women obtaining abortions were under age 25, 75 per cent were white and 73 per cent were not married.

The report said 48 per cent of the women had no living children, 20 per cent had one living child and 5 per cent had five or more children.

Forty-eight women died of complications from abortions in 1974, the report said, compared with 56 in 1973. Legal abortions caused 24 of the 48 deaths in 1974, illegal abortions five, spontaneous abortions 18 and there was one death for which a cause has not been established.

Senate investigator says

Mobsters pocket $1.1 million in scheme to bilk teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigator said Friday that a union benefit plan put more than $1.1 million from a New York Teamsters local into the pockets of people connected with organized crime, and millions more may be draining from other unions across the country.

La Vern J. Duffy, assistant counsel for the Senate Government Operations investigation subcommittee, said the scheme to bleed funds from a severance pay-life insurance plan was discovered in Teamsters Local 295. But he added that similar severance-insurance plans, drawn up by the same person who prepared the New York one, are in effect in other union locals across the country.

Duffy said the plans were prepared by Louis Ostrer, an insurance expert who was named in a subcommittee staff study as having criminal connections. It said he has a criminal record and is currently out of jail pending his appeal for a new trial in a 1973 stock fraud case.

The subcommittee said it plans to turn its findings over to the Justice Department, Labor Department and Internal Revenue Service.

But committee leaders Sam Nunn, D-Ga., and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., added that they also would continue their probe.

Duffy declined to identify other union locals with similar severance-insurance plans, and he would not say how many of them are being investigated. But he did say that more unions than just the Teamsters are involved and they are situated in various locations around the country.

In the Local 295 case, the bulk of the $1.1 million apparently was drained in one insurance scheme, according to the study which said the insurance premiums should have been about $10,000 but instead ran $800,000.

New charge issued in sex scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new woman in Congress' expanding sex scandal can partially support a reported allegation that a former congressman ordered Elizabeth Ray to engage in sex with Sen. Mike Gravel in return for a political favor, an informed source reported Friday.

A second source, close to Miss Ray, said Miss Ray made the claim to federal investigators.

Colleen Gardner, whose lawyer claims she was paid a high salary by Rep. John Young, D-Texas, partly in return for sexual favors, was an eyewitness to a sexual encounter between Miss Ray and Gravel aboard former Rep. Ken Gray's houseboat on the Potomac River, the first source said.

Both Gray and Gravel denied the report.

Gray, now a Washington consultant, called the accusation that he provided Gravel with sex in an effort to influence legislation "absolutely, totally false. It's utterly ridiculous on the face of it."

Gravel said, "I have no recollection at all of any encounter."

Kissinger in Mexico, 'prisoner swap' asked

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. and Mexican officials will soon begin "intensive discussions" on a general exchange of prisoners held in jail on drug charges.

The idea of a swap, it was learned, was one of "a number of rather ingenious and interesting proposals" that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says have been suggested in talks here.

About 500 Americans are held in Mexican jails. There have been widespread complaints of maltreatment of prisoners and lack of access for U.S. consular officials and lawyers.

Kissinger pointed out at a news conference Friday during his two-day stay here that an even larger number of Mexicans are in U.S. jails. He said the objective of the negotiations is "to alleviate the general situation of individuals being held in prison in a foreign country."

Kissinger appealed to Mexico and other Latin American nations to serve as a bridge between the industrialized West and developing countries in economic forums.

Kissinger also said Friday the United States has not yet gained "conclusive confirmation" that Cuba intends to withdraw its combat forces from Angola.

Kissinger told a news conference, "At this moment the withdrawal is too small to permit us to draw any conclusion."

As he spoke, police and army units patrolled downtown Mexico City to prevent an anti-Kissinger demonstration planned by the Communist party and three other left-wing organizations. Police Chief Gen. Daniel Gutierrez Santos refused to issue a permit for the march and said soldiers would be used if necessary to break up any demonstration.

Kissinger, speaking primarily about Angola, said a total withdrawal of all organized Cuban troops from that Southwest African country is a precondition to normalization of Washington-Havans relations.

Carter sees victory, but worries about lack of minority delegates

ATLANTA (AP) — Jimmy Carter believes he has at least 125 more delegates than he needs to win the Democratic presidential nomination but is concerned about minority representation at the party's national convention, his press secretary said Friday.

Jody Powell said Carter staffers estimate the former Georgia governor's total at 1,630-1,640, but Powell added that the projection was "very rough."

The Associated Press delegate count shows Carter with 1,252.5 votes, while his nearest competitor, Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall, has 329.

It takes 1,505 votes to win the nomination.

Powell said Carter — who spent the day at home in Plains, Ga. — has expressed concern about the representation of women and minorities among all delegates and among those committed to him.

"Gov. Carter has asked me to say that he is concerned about the fact that both in the convention as a whole and among Carter delegates, women, blacks and Spanish-surnamed are underrepresented, that it is somewhat below what it was last year."

Powell said the convention as a whole may include less than 10 per cent blacks, 30 to 33 per cent women and an uncertain percentage of Spanish-surnamed persons.

He said that among Carter delegates, about 13 per cent are black, 40 per cent are women, 5 per cent have Spanish surnames and 17 per cent are under 30.

"There is no way we can control which delegates are elected," he added.

In 1972, nearly 40 per cent of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention were women, 14 per cent were black and more than 25 per cent were under 30.

Powell said Carter will meet with Alabama Gov. George Wallace on Saturday at the governor's mansion in Montgomery and with Udall in New York on Monday.

Asked why Carter was meeting with Wallace, Powell said the former governor has talked by telephone and probably will talk personally to all of the Democratic candidates who are not actively seeking the nomination.

Powell said Carter and Wallace are likely to discuss the platform which will be adopted at the Democratic convention.

Burial for Getty: may be long wait

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As one of the world's wealthiest men, J. Paul Getty almost never had to wait in line. But he is waiting to be buried in his own Malibu backyard, and city officials said Friday he may keep waiting for six months.

State regulations prohibit burial on private land, so Getty executor William Bell, trust officer of Title Insurance and Trust Co. of Los Angeles, and his attorneys have begun discussions with city officials about an appeal for a zoning variance to enable the late billionaire to go to his final rest as he desired in his will.

Getty, who died in England on Sunday at the age of 83, instructed in his will that a mausoleum be built near his museum on property he owns in Malibu.

But the California Health and Safety Code prohibits burials within cities except in cemeteries. Having land designated as a cemetery is a long, complicated process involving several public hearings, said Asst. City Planner Bart Sincosky.

"They would probably need approval from the state and then from the (city) Planning Department. As of yesterday, the attorneys for the estate hadn't filed anything," Sincosky said.

Talks end for farm workers

KEENE (AP) — Cesar Chavez said Friday his United Farm Workers had broken off negotiations with the rival Teamsters Union aimed at ending their 10-year battle over the right to represent farm workers.

The announcement came less than a day after the existence of the secret talks was reported in a newspaper account.

Chavez, leader of the UFW, said the Teamsters had initiated the talks, and that the UFW had been invited to take part by Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.

The aim, several sources reported, was to resolve the jurisdictional question at the heart of the farm labor dispute, possibly by allowing the UFW to represent field hands and the Teamsters to represent truck drivers and packers.

In return, the sources said, the UFW would be asked to drop its suits against Teamsters and growers stemming from Teamster takeovers of numerous UFW contracts.

But Chavez said the discussions were fruitless.

ED JAMES

Ontario picks city engineer

Ed Roy James, Pomona's city engineer, has been selected as city engineer for Ontario.

He will begin his new duties July 6, succeeding Allen Morrison, who resigned several months ago to enter private practice.

James, employed by Pomona for the past 2½ years, was selected from 47 applicants. His appointment was announced by Ontario City Manager Roger Hughbanks.

He previously worked for Corona for 14 months and with the City of Los Angeles engineering bureau for eight years.

James has civil engineering degrees from both UCLA and Cal State Long Beach.

James was a unanimous choice by members of an oral screening board, said Hughbanks.

He and his wife, Susan, have two children.

Most high school students learn "the games people play" rather than receiving a sound basic education, Valedictorian Lori Kayashima told her fellow Chino High School graduates Friday night.

Miss Kayashima explained to 433 graduates at the annual commencement exercises that the "games" involve learning how to achieve a good grade in a course with the least amount of work.

"Kids don't learn the basics in high school," she added, attributing the failure in education to changes in society itself.

Young people used to read more during their free time, but now television takes up much of their daily routine, said Miss Kayashima.

On a more optimistic note, she stated that students have the potential to reverse this "crisis in learning." Whether they use that potential is up to them, she added.

Salutatorian Edmund Bertschinger, discussing the changing role of the high school graduate, said the "whole works is in a constant state of evolution."

"How do we prepare young people for a world that changes so rapidly?" he asked. "We can only do this by teaching them to cope with changes."

Millions of people have been robbed of their usefulness in today's society, said Bertschinger, quoting philosopher Eric Hoffer. "Inaction is the only thing that can hurt us," he added.

Bertschinger challenged the graduates not to sit back, but to "take action for a changing tomorrow."

Principal Richard Ferguson presented the graduates and Chino school board President Al McCombs and member Lyle Briggs presented the diplomas.

'Kennedy lady' linked to crime

SAN DIEGO (AP) — FBI reports released at the demand of Judith Exner link her definitely with underworld figures, a U.S. attorney said Friday. But the names of others, including that of a congressman, are deleted from the reports released by a court order.

In a news conference last December, Mrs. Exner said she carried on "a relationship" with the late President John F. Kennedy and organized crime figure Sam Giancana. She filed suit Feb. 6 to gain access to the FBI files for help in writing her memoirs.

The files, which appeared to have been sharply edited, were released in response to an order by U.S. District Court Judge Edward J. Schwartz. The FBI fought to keep the files secret but the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco upheld Schwartz's order.

Asst. U.S. Atty. John Neece said the 28-page FBI summary mentions Mrs. Exner, usually under her first married name of Judy Campbell, in a total of 92 reports made by the FBI between 1962 and last January.

The summary does not mention Kennedy but refers to Giancana as "a leader of organized crime in this country." Giancana was shot to death execution-style last year in his Chicago home.

The summary excludes many of the FBI's reports on grounds of confidentiality of sources.

Doctors' pact OK'd

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A labor dispute that resulted in a three-day strike by interns and residents at Los Angeles County hospitals in April has been settled under terms grudgingly accepted by the physicians, a doctors' spokesman said Friday.

The county offered to an increase of 6 per cent in pay for the doctors—half of which the doctors will contribute to a patient care fund to improve facilities at the three main county hospitals.

GRAFFITI REMOVER

Jim Nickelson of Hotsy Cleaning Equipment removes graffiti from a wall at Arrow Highway and Cataract Avenue in San Dimas in a special demonstration for officials of Bonita schools and the city. The machinery removes wall graffiti in minutes and could save considerable costs to both the schools and city which are grappling with the written vandalism on walls throughout the community. Mayor Marvin Ersher and Supt. James Johnson and others met later at city hall to discuss tentative plans of jointly purchasing the equipment. Officials say they'll explore all possibilities before any decision is made.

Claremont rejoining regional planning unit

Seen as a strong voice for cities

The Claremont City Council has supported a resolution of the East San Gabriel Valley Planning Committee asking that the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors reaffirm the committee's role in the countywide General Plan process.

The council Tuesday night indicated a renewed interest in the committee's activities and voted to join for the 1976-77 fiscal year after staying away from the group for a year because of lack of interest.

With a "bare-bones" budget last spring, the council had decided belonging to the group was not worth the $50 dues.

A Superior Court judge last year threw out the county's proposed General Plan, and gave the county 19 months to draw up a new plan.

The county has a year left to comply with the judge's order.

Claremont Planning Director Donald G. King suggested that the city rejoin the committee, which, established in 1954, is the oldest area-wide planning group in the county.

King said that the work program for updating the countywide general plan states that cities will participate in the review process through established planning groups.

King said that a purpose of the committee is to act "as an organized voice" for the area in matters of area-wide interest in dealing with county, regional, state and federal agencies.

The city will be represented at committee dinner meetings by a planning commissioner and a city councilman, as well as planning and public works staff members on subcommittees.

In other matters, the council:

—Continued a public hearing until June 22 on updating of the Historical Claremont ordinance.

—Denied an appeal by Jerry Benson, who operates a glass shop at 375 W. First St. (The Architectural Commission had conditionally approved the remodeling of a service station into a glass shop with the installation of an awning as a condition).

Benson asked the commission to reconsider the need for an awning, but the commission reaffirmed its earlier approval.

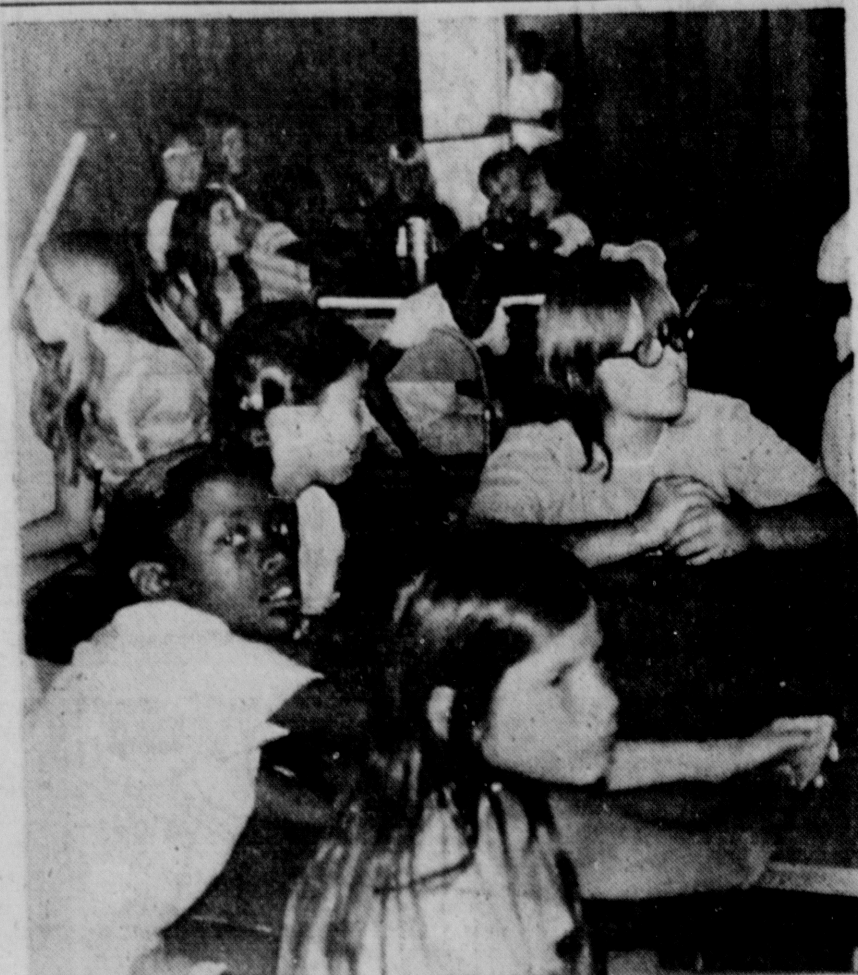

Tuesday evening Benson suggested that he be allowed to put up temporary signs instead of the awning so customers would know what type of products he sells. The council was not receptive to the signs and felt the awning "an inexpensive way to decorate a building."

—Authorized the calling for bids for a second phase of the remodeling of city hall.

—Authorized the calling for bids for three refuse collection carts with hydraulic dump bodies.

—Said "no" to a request from the Board of Supervisors that cities in Los Angeles County share on a per capita basis in the subsidy of the 25 cents bus fare program.

"Claremont doesn't have the money," said Mayor Bertye Smith.

CAMP CAMARADERIE

Children experience companionship with many other children at summer camp. Donrey Public Foundation, Inc., is conducting Send-a-Kid-to-Camp drive for needy children.

Send-a-Kid-to-Camp

Natalie, 10, Mama's little helper may get her wish

Natalie has begged to go to camp for several years but it is an experience the family could never afford.

Then Natalie's mother found out that the Send-a-Kid-to-Camp drive conducted by the Donrey Public Foundation was submitting an application to send her daughter to camp. She hugged Natalie and cried with disbelief.

Life has been hard on Natalie. Born into a family of 13 children, she has many responsibilities for a girl of 10. Every day after school she rushes home to help her mother care for the younger children, cook and clean. In addition, she helps her mother, who has been blind for 17 years, to dress and bathe.

Three years ago Natalie had lung surgery. She is extremely small for her age and doctors attribute this in part to her poor health. Camp would give Natalie the fresh air she doesn't get otherwise.

Even with all these problems and pressure, Natalie doesn't complain. She is proud of her family. Her father works hard and manages to provide a home, food and some clothing. Her older brothers have jobs after school and the younger boys collect empty returnable pop bottles.

There are many Natasies in this area who deserve a chance for a camp experience. Your dollars can help make it all possible.

To help send local needy children to camp, send your contribution to the Donrey Public Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 2708, Pomona, 91766. Each dollar received helps toward our goal; each contribution is used to send deserving children to a week of camp.

Two grad sessions for Poly's largest class

The 20th annual Cal Poly Pomona commencement exercises will be held today in two sessions — the first at 11 a.m. and the second at 4:30 p.m.

The candidates for degrees from the school of arts, environmental design, and science will meet in the morning; those from agriculture, business administration and engineering in the afternoon.

The graduating class will be the largest in the university's history. An estimated 2,100 students will receive degrees — approximately 1,865 for bachelor's degrees and 235 for master's degrees. This compares with last year's total of 2,072 — 1,890 bachelor's and 182 master's.

The commencement planning committee, under the direction of Richard G. York, director of admissions and records, anticipates about half the total will actually take part in today's ceremonies.

For the first time this year the faculty-student receptions will precede the ceremonies instead of following. The morning receptions will be from 9 to 10:15 and the afternoon from 2 to 3:45.

There will be no official speaker. In the absence of Cal Poly President, Robert C. Kramer, executive vice president Hugh O. La Bounty Jr. will officiate at the awarding of un-

The preliminary hearing of a murder charge against 18-year-old Thomas Jackson Stewart has been continued in Pomona Municipal Court to June 17 by the mutual consent of both the prosecution and defense.

Stewart, 2474 Manville St., Pomona, is accused of the slaying May 17 of Bernardine Denise Brown, 23, in her home at 1107 Cornelia St. in Pomona. The victim had been stabbed many times.

Stewart was described by investigators as a former friend of the woman. He remained in jail in lieu of $100,000 bail set by Judge Thomas F. Nuss.

He will discuss "The Future Growth Potential for Small Private Institutions" on the On Campus television show.

Chaffey College's tentative budget shows 1-cent tax hike

The Chaffey College board of trustees has adopted a tentative budget for 1976-77 of $18,852,148 and estimated a tax rate increase of one cent per $100 of assessed valuation.

The new budget is keyed to an estimated tax rate of 69 cents. Last year's budget was $14,125,327.

Nearly $1 million in the fiscal program for the year ahead has been earmarked for staff salaries and program improvement, but no salary increases have been approved to date.

Proposed state legislation "may change the Chaffey budget considerably" before its final adoption, according to Robert E. Totten, assistant superintendent for business services.

The state education code requires that a school district governing board adopt a tentative budget before July 1. The board has the opportunity to review and amend the budget in July and August.

In the Tuesday session, the board also contracted for two small buses, at $13,306.57 each, for use by physically handicapped students.

The board's bid to increase its size from five to seven trustee positions was turned down Tuesday by the voters in the college district which includes portions of both San Bernardino and Riverside counties. In San Bernardino County, voters rejected the proposal by a vote of 26,230 no votes to 22,725 in favor. Voters in Riverside County accepted the proposal by 6,672 yes votes against 5,894 no votes, which was not enough to carry the ballot measure.

The total tally was 32,124 nos to 29,397 yeses.

Astara takes over in Upland

College campus now church's

Escrow has closed and Astara, a Los Angeles-based church and educational organization, has assumed ownership of the former Upland College Campus.

The official opening of the refurbished campus will be in October, which also marks the 25th anniversary of the organization founded by Robert Chaney and his wife, Earlyne.

Local members of the worldwide organization are starting to schedule volunteer work parties to clean and paint the campus prior to moving the offices from Los Angeles, according to Chaney.

The down payment check of $215,000 was delivered to West End Escrow in Ontario by the Chaneyes.

An unofficial opening will be a series of five-day retreats held on Mondays through Fridays each week in August and September.

Scheduled for the official dedication in October are programs by Marcus Bach, former head of the Department of Religion at the University of Iowa; William Parker and Elaine St. Johns, co-authors of "Prayer Can Change Your Life"; Brad Steiger, syndicated newspaper columnist; and Shafica Karagulla, neuropsychiatrist and UCLA faculty member.

THAT OTHER SILVER STUFF

Platinum is relatively new on the gem scene, having been used extensively only in the past 50 years. Many people know very little about this metal and confuse it for silver or white gold.

Platinum was used as early as the 17th century B.C. At that time it was thought to be a type of silver. Early in the 18th century a Spanish officer named the metal "platina," which means "silver of little value." In 1751 it was recognized as a different element, actually a combination of several metals.

Platinum is rarer, heavier, and more malleable than gold. Its resistance to corrosion and tarnish exceeds that of gold, silver, and stainless steel. It will never discolor the finger of its wearer as other metals sometimes do. Expensive diamond jewelry is often set in platinum because it resists nicks and scratches and does not alter the natural brilliancy or color of the stone. It provides a durable setting but is not hard enough to chip a delicately-cut stone.

Because of its rarity, platinum is rather expensive. At present it sells for about $170 an ounce. However, the price gap between gold and platinum has been closing in recent years. At one time platinum was four times as expensive as gold. Now a platinum setting costs less than twice as much as a gold one.

The setting is a very important part of a fine jewelry item. It not only affects the value of the stones but also protects them. Be sure you know what metal you are buying and how well it has been used to protect your fine gems.

Garvey sparks L.A.

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — Steve Garvey's power has been down this season but the Dodgers' first baseman is still getting his hits.

Garvey connected for a single, double and triple Friday night to lead the Dodgers to an easy 7-4 victory over the hapless Montreal Expos.

The three hits gave Garvey 77 for the season to tie him with Cincinnati's Pete Rose for the National League lead. Garvey also raised his average to .318.

But he has hit only four home runs with the season already past the one third mark after belting 21 and 18 the past two years.

"I've been having a little trouble with my timing this season," Garvey said after the win. "It has been a struggle for me. I have mainly concentrated on keeping my average up by hitting to right and center. Today, I worked for 10 minutes on just driving the ball. I may be able to hit a few more home runs this way."

Garvey drove in three runs to raise his season RBI total to 34. He singled home Davey Lopes in the first inning, added a two-run triple in the second and added his double in the fifth in a two-run inning.

"I'm just happy to get my hits at the right time tonight," Garvey said.

It was a gift win for the Dodgers since the Expos helped L.A. to five unearned runs in the first two innings. The two runs in the fifth made it 7-1 and it was all downhill from there.

Montreal, which has the worst record (19-30) in the major leagues, chased Dodger starter Don Sutton with five hits in the seventh inning to account for three runs to make it 7-4 before Charlie Hough came in from the bullpen to record his third save of the season.

The Expos actually enjoyed a brief 1-0 lead in the first inning when they put together back-to-back hits by Tim Foli, Jose Morales and Jim Lytle after the first two batters were out.

But the Dodgers tied it in the bottom of the first when Lopes was safe on third baseman Larry Parrish's error, stole second and came home on Garvey's hit.

Winless Clay Kirby (0-5) was knocked out of the box in the second when L.A. scored four runs on only one hit — Garvey's triple.

But Kirby contributed to his own downfall by allowing two walks, throwing a wild pitch and hitting Steve Yeager with a pitch. A second error by Parrish also gave the Dodgers a little help.

Steve Dunning, who started the season with the Angels, retired the Dodgers in order in the third and fourth but was knocked around in the fifth when Bill Buckner singled, Garvey doubled and Ron Cey doubled both of them in for his 38th and 39th RBI of the season.

Sutton, who evened his record at 6-6, was sailing along on a four-hitter until the seventh when the Expos knocked him out on singles by Jim Dwyer, Foli, Morales and Lytle plus Jerry White's double.

Hough came out of the bullpen to get Parrish on an easy pop-up with the tying run at the plate to end that threat.

Rookie Gary Roenicke, the former Edgewood High star, hit a double in the ninth inning but Hough got the final two outs.

DODGER DATA — Friday's paid turnout of 17,278 was the smallest of the season at Dodger Stadium. Reasons probably include the poor homestand (5-7), the Expos plus the recent wave of crime at the stadium.

Introductions for Sunday's Old-timers Day begins at 12:30 p.m. and the game starts at 1 p.m. Don Drysdale and Bob Feller will be the starting pitchers.

Rick Rhoden (4-0) tries for his fifth straight victory tonight against Dan Warthen (1-5) of the Expos in the 7 p.m. game.

Sunday's 2 p.m. finale features Tommy John (2-4) vs. Woodie Fryman (7-3).

The Dodgers' game in Cincinnati on Monday, June 21, will be televised by KABC (Channel 7) at 5:30 p.m.

Progress Bulletin

Petty takes on the short '400'

Richard Petty is looking forward to Sunday's annual Riverside 400 with a mixture of apprehension and anticipation.

Instead of 400 miles, it'll be 400 kilometers or 248.9 miles. Then there is the matter of King Richard's current "slump" which has seen him win one time in the last six races.

Typically he looks at the overall picture and sees the best points.

"Wal, being that they cut the distance back," he drawled in his native North Carolinese, "it's goin' to be a lot better for everybody."

"From my standpoint, I like a long race because I got good equipment and it can last a long race. But when it comes to runnin' here, I don't mind it 'cause I'm hard on equipment here (at Riverside). I'll probably be a little better off in a shorter race."

Petty feels the spectators will gain the most from the shorter distance.

"It'll be a wide open race," he explained. "There won't be any long lulls in the middle. It'll be more like a series of sprint races. There's not goin' to be any time for a lot of strategy. You jes goin' to have to put the pedal to the floor and go."

This is a slump?

Petty's "slump" wouldn't be considered a slump for almost any other driver. In the five races he didn't win, he finished second three times and fourth twice. But he has failed to finish five times out of the first 10 races.

"Wal," he shrugged, "it's jes that a lot of things we got by with last year have caught up to us this year. We're not doin' anything different."

"We're usin' the same car, got the same people workin' with us. We're doin' the same things except they're not fallin' together this year."

Petty looks at it philosophically. "It's like a batter bein' in a slump. It's not that he's changed his way of hittin' or the pitchers has got better or nothin'. It's jes that a trend has set in."

"I say you got to have the good along with the bad. Right now we're on the bad end of the deal. We've had it before. We've had our ups and downs all along."

"It's just that we had such a good year last year. Even this year, runnin' wise, we're doin' better than everybody. It's jes that we're not winnin' the races."

Last year in one incredible streak between May 25 and Sept. 21, Petty racked up six wins and five second-place finishes in 11 races.

King Richard will be challenged by old rivals such as David Pearson, Bobby Allison, Buddy Baker, Cale Yarborough and Benny Parsons Sunday.

No Janet Guthrie

Newcomer Janet Guthrie will not be on hand and Petty feels that may be a mistake on her part.

"She could probably do a lot better at Riverside than she did in Charlotte (in the World 600) because it's a road course and that's where her experience has been," he pointed out.

Asked about Miss Guthrie's performance at Charlotte, Petty replied, "She finished the race which was a surprise to a lot of us. Although she was 30-35 miles behind, she still run all day long. It surprised a lot of people."

"Her big objective was to make the field which she did. Her next objective was to finish the race which she did. But she really didn't race with anybody."

"From the drivers' standpoint," Petty continued, "she did a pretty good job for a beginner. She didn't really get in the way that much. But she was pretty tired by the end of the race and she made a couple of three moves that shouldn't have been made."

"She's done took her rookie stripes off and from now on, she'll have to look after herself. She starts wanderin' round like that and they'll probably park her in the infield some place."

Petty doesn't see much chance of a woman winning a race very soon. But he admits he could be wrong.

"They'll be able to make the race if they get a car," he said. "Janet Guthrie had a real good car. But as far as competin' and tryin' to win races, I really can't see it right now."

"But anything can happen. The difference between runnin' four or five hours just to finish and runnin' real hard is very different. Physically, it's much, much harder."

"She (Janet Guthrie) isn't used to running round and round. If she come out here (Riverside), she would at least understand the workin' of the race track."

Sunday's 400 will start at 1 p.m. There is a preliminary race, the California 150, at 11 a.m. The 400 will be televised (on CBS) a week later.

of the first NCAA College World Series game played Friday night at Omaha, Neb. Clemson went on to defeat Auburn, 9-4.

Angels throw away a game

DETROIT (AP) — Second baseman Jerry Remy's throwing error with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning Friday night allowed Ron LeFlore to score the winning run and give the Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory over the California Angels.

LeFlore beat out an infield single with one out and took second on wild pickoff attempt by Paul Hartzell. Pedro Garcia grounded out and LeFlore held at second, then Alex Johnson hit a bouncer over the bag at second which Remy backhanded. LeFlore already had rounded third when Remy threw wild to first.

Rookie Mark Fidrych went all the way for Detroit for the fifth time in five career starts to raise his record to 4-1 before a crowd of 36,377.

Fidrych, a slender righthander, outduelled Nolan Ryan and Hartzell, who relieved Ryan to open the sixth. Hartzell's record fell to 0-2.

Bobby Bonds opened the game with a single for California and stole second. Then Jerry Remy hit a sacrifice bunt and Pedro Garcia, making his first defensive play as a Tiger, threw the ball wild for an error, to score Bonds from third.

Fidrych then got 13 consecutive outs before Lee Stanton hit a two-out double in the fifth.

The Tigers had taken a 2-1 lead in the fourth off Nolan Ryan after a pair of rain delays in the inning totaling 55 minutes.

The Angels came up with two runs in the sixth. Andy Etchebarren opened with a single and Bonds followed with another. Remy was safe on a fielder's choice and then Ron Jackson hit a perfect doubleplay ball which would have ended the inning.

But shortstop Chuck Scrivener dropped the throw and a run scored, then Tommy Davis singled another.

E. Michigan Clemson win

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Sophomore Bob Welch pitched Eastern Michigan out of a seventh inning jam Friday night and preserved a 3-2 victory over Maine with a string of strikeouts in a first-round game in the 30th College World Series.

Bill Foley slammed a three-run home run and Clemson erupted for 10 hits to topple Auburn 9-4 in the opening game of the eight-team double-elimination tournament.

Top-rated Arizona State, 62-8, tangles with Arizona, 51-16, and Oklahoma 62-17, meets Washington State, 42-13, in the concluding first-round games Saturday evening.

Johnson, Wiencek sign pro contracts

Scott Johnson of La Verne and Gary Wiencek of Claremont both signed professional baseball contracts with the Detroit Tigers Friday.

Johnson, who just completed an outstanding career as a prep catcher at Bonita High, signed with Tiger scout Dick Wiencek of Claremont. Gary Wiencek's father, Johnson will report to the Tigers' rookie club at Bristol, Va., in the Appalachian League on June 20.

"We think Scott is a major league prospect," said the elder Wiencek. "He had an outstanding year at Bonita and we're in need of good catching prospects."

Gary Wiencek, a recent USC graduate who played at Citrus College and Claremont High, signed with his father and Jim Miller, another Tiger scout. He will report Sunday to Lakeland, Fla., in the Florida State League.

"We were in need of a back-up catcher," said his father. "Gary can play three positions (first base and outfield as well as catcher). He can be a valuable guy for a manager to have around."

Johnson was the first player selected on the third round and Wiencek went on the 12th round in this week's Major League draft.

The Bonita catcher was an All-Hacienda League pick after batting .411 and stealing 23 bases on the year. Wiencek hit 18 homers for USC during the last two seasons.

Gary's older brother Steve Wiencek played in the Angels' farm system until a broken ankle ended his career.

Wilkins puts on a show

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Newcomer Millard Hampton, veteran Tom Hill and Mac Wilkins all won events Friday at the 88th National AAU Track and Field Championship, with the massive Wilkins thrilling the crowd with the greatest discus throwing exhibition in history.

The 6-foot-5, 270-pounder from Oregon won the event with a throw of 230 feet, just 2½ feet off his own world record, but the Pacific Coast Club's latest Olympic challenger had an incredible series of six throws — 225-2, 224-1, 228-0, 228-8, 230-0, and 226-11, for an average of 227-2.

Hampton, a 19-year-old sophomore at San Jose City College who is headed for UCLA, captured the 200-meter dash in 20.89, holding off former NCAA champ James Gilkes in the final 10 meters.

"Am I happy?" he repeated a question. "You bet! I could feel Gilkes breathing on me and I was just glad the tape came up to me before he did."

The victory came in a race Steve Williams was expected to win, but the tall Florida flash withdrew from the meet earlier Friday with a slight pull in his right hamstring muscle. Williams said he would not be affected in the upcoming Olympic trials at Eugene, Ore.

Hill, who won the high hurdles in 1970 and 1973 and was a bronze medalist in the 1972 Olympics, exploded over the last three hurdles to nip UCLA's James Owens. Hill was timed in 13.64 and Owens in 13.69, but both were far off the AAU meet record established last year by Jerry Wilson, 13.38.

Upland High's Kari Gosswiller, competing with the San Antonio League Track Club, was one of nine women to clear 5 feet, 9 inches in the high jump prelims and advanced to today's finals.

The Upland sophomore, who won the state high school title last week with a state record jump of 5-10, cleared 5-9 Friday on her second attempt after making both 5-5 and 5-7 on the first try.

Earlier in the sunny day, Larry Hart of the New York Athletic Club won his first AAU title in the hammer with a throw of 225-10, and Arnie Robinson continued on his strong pace in the long jump, winning in 27-3½ to equal the best mark in the world this year.

Matun, Toro win feature

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Matun, making his first start since an operation almost two years ago, posted a 1½-length upset victory Friday in the featured $25,000 Dominguez Purse at Hollywood Park.

The winner returned $27.20, $9.80 and $5.20, and carried 115 pounds in the 6½-furlong event for older horses. He covered the distance in 1:14 2-5.

yet qualified for the trials that begin next Saturday are using this meet to produce marks that will get them into the trials.

Rick Brown, a four-time Pacific-8 champion in the 800, has not qualified. Brown, however, made it to the finals of this meet in the men's 800 and also met the qualifying standard with a rapid 1:47.9.

Madeline Manning Jackson, who won the women's 800-meter gold medal in the 1968 Olympic Games, continued her comeback with a 2:04.3 time in the semifinals of the event. Jan Merrill, the national AAU indoor mile champion, is running 800 in this meet and qualified in 2:03.4.

Pentathlon star Jane Frederick, competing in four individual events in this meet, captured the women's 100-meter hurdles for the second year in a row, and her time of 13.29 was a lifetime best and just a shade off the American record of 13.26 set by Patty Van Wolvelaere in 1972.

Miss Fredrick also finished fifth in the shot put, which was won by Maren Seidler of San Jose, Calif., with a throw of 54.4.

Dwight Stones was the first and only man to clear 7-3, winning the event, and then did 7-4½ on his second try. Stones failed three times at 7-5¼ as the sun sank in the West and the track grew gloomy.

Dick Buerkle, a 28-year-old former champion, won the 5,000 again, defeating defending champion Marty Liquori. Buerkle was clocked in 13:31.2, and the race may have been a disaster for Liquori.

The former Villanova star suffered a third muscle injury in his left leg — an injury doctors cannot accurately diagnose — and Liquori may be in trouble at next week's Olympic trials.

The injury occurred just as Buerkle passed Liquori on the final curve. Liquori, who turned 27 last Friday, began to accelerate but then winced in pain and simply jogged home in 13:41.0.

Liquori suffered a severe Achilles tendon injury three months before the 1972 Olympic Trials and failed to make the U.S. team.

Twelve men, including world record holder Earl Bell, qualified for Saturday's pole vault final by clearing 17-1.

David Pearson earns pole for Riverside 400

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., riding the crest of his most successful NASCAR stock car racing season since 1969 when he was champion, qualified fastest Friday for today's Riverside 400.

Pearson set a record of 111.437 miles per hour in the Wood Brothers Mercury, shattering the mark of 110.753 m.p.h. set last year by Bobby Allison in a Matador. Allison will fill the outside spot on the first row of the $124,925 race in his Mercury with a qualifying average speed of 110.095 m.p.h.

"Disc brakes made the difference," Pearson said after he climbed out of his car following the qualification run around the 2.62-mile, eight-turn course in 1 minute, 24.639 seconds.

"I had them in January, but I wasn't used to them. Now I am and I can go into the corners a lot deeper. It was the brakes, and I think I put a couple of good laps together too."

A full second per lap slower at 1:25.671 was Allison of Hueytown, Ala., but the surprises in qualifying were farther back in the 15-car field set in the first day of time trials.

Benny Parsons of Ellerbe, N.C., qualified third in a 1975 Chevrolet at 109.895 m.p.h. and a surprisingly smooth Buddy Baker was fourth in a 1976 Torino at 109.575 m.p.h.

Richard Petty, four-time Riverside winner from Randleman, N.C., will start the race on the inside of the fourth row in his 1974 Dodge behind Jimmy Insolo of Mission Hills, Calif. and Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C.

Starting the race next to Petty will be rookie Rusty Sanders of Bakerfield, Calif. in a 1975 Chevelle. This will be the first major race of any type for Sanders, who has been competing in stock cars for only one year.

Bird leads Kansas City

KANSAS CITY — Pomona's Doug Bird pitched near-perfect baseball for seven innings and Al Cowens drove in two runs as the Kansas City Royals shut out the slumping Baltimore Orioles, 4-0.

Bird, a product of Pomona High and Mt. San Antonio College, was relieved in the eighth inning with stiffness in his right shoulder after surrendering three hits and striking out six. Bird, 7-1, has not allowed a walk in his last 31 innings.

The Royals supplied Bird with an early two-run lead as Buck Martinez singled with one out in the third and scored on Dave Nelson's triple. Amos Otis, who went two-for-three, knocked Nelson in with a sacrifice fly to center.

Kansas City scored in the sixth as Hal McRae doubled and Cowens singled to center, scoring McRae, who had reached third on Mike Cuellar's wild pitch.

The Royals scored an insurance run in the eighth inning on Cowens' second RBI single, driving in John Mayberry. Mayberry had walked and moved to second on a sacrifice.

Cuellar, 2-7, took the loss.

Lucas joins WTT

OAKLAND (AP) — John Lucas, the first player chosen in Tuesday's National Basketball Association draft, signed a contract Friday to play World Team Tennis with the Golden Gators.

The 6-foot-4 Lucas, who appeared at a press conference with team officials to announce the pact, probably will play his first game as a Golden Gator Saturday night against the Indiana Pacers.

Lucas, Maryland's premier guard, was signed to a five-year contract by the Houston Rockets of the NBA for a reported $850,000. The 21-year-old star said at the time that he was negotiating with a WTT team but did not reveal which one.

He'll be getting quite a bit less from the Gators, but details of the contract were not revealed. "The Gators won't be his primary source of income for the next three or four years," said owner Dave Peterson.

Before the signing, Coach Frew McMillan, whose team is in second place in the WTT western division after seven straight victories, appeared less than overjoyed at the idea of breaking in a new player.

"It will be an interesting experiment," McMillan said. "But I reckon that if he's starting one sport, he ought to stick with that. I mean, how many athletes can you name who were outstanding in two pro sports?" "I'm keen to see him before I take off for Wimbledon," McMillan said. "I don't know a thing about him. I've never seen him play anything, tennis or basketball."

Lucas has won two Atlantic Coast Conference singles titles and one doubles title and was considered one of the country's top collegiate tennis players.

Purtzer baffled

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Rookie Tom Purtzer, who says he's completely puzzled by his sudden emergence from obscurity, scrambled to a second consecutive 68 and tied Jim Dent for the second round lead Friday in the weather-troubled, $250,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

The 6-foot-2, 225 pound Dent, one of the hardest hitters on the tour, was one of the 75 players stranded on the Quail Hollow Country Club course by a thunderstorm Thursday afternoon.

He had to finish off his first 18 holes early Friday morning—making birdies on his last three—and turned around immediately for another four-under-par 68 that gave him a two-round total of 136, eight under par.

The 24-year-old Purtzer, who led through three rounds in Philadelphia last week, matched that effort late in the hot, humid, hazy afternoon while thunder rumbled in the distance and the day's play—again—appeared in jeopardy.

"I honestly don't understand it," said Purtzer, who'd never even come close before his sudden challenges of the last two weeks.

"I was off for three weeks before Philadelphia. I just kind of figured out I've got to keep it in the fairway more than I'd been doing. So I've been going to the three wood more, playing more position golf. "I'm thinking better."

Thorbreds post win

The hitting of Steve Ines enabled the San Dimas Thorbreds to defeat the San Gabriel Thorbreds Friday night at San Gabriel 6-1.

Ines cracked two doubles and a triple to pace the offensive attack. San Dimas' Rick Ortega picked up two hits and 2 RBI. John Huddleson picked up the win to up his league record to 2-0.

San Dimas next hosts Temple City Sunday afternoon at La Verne College. The game is set for a 2:00 p.m. start.

Inoki threatens

TOKYO (AP) — Antonio Inoki said Friday he has advised Muhammad Ali to bring along crutches and arm slings when he comes to Japan for their June 26 meeting, billed as the first World Martial Arts Championship.

Meeting reporters at the Tokyo hotel where Ali and his party will stay, the Japanese wrestler appeared calm and confident going into the final 15 days of training. He said he is being coached by a leading karate expert, and training with a Japanese heavyweight boxer "to grasp the timing that boxers use in fighting."

Inoki said he was recuperating from a shoulder injury and would be in top condition for the combination boxing-wrestling encounter.

"I am not satisfied with some of the rules," he said. "I am not permitted to tackle or hit from the floor. But I can compensate for that. I am perfecting my strategy."

Wearing a cream-colored suit and a lime-green, wide-collared shirt on his 6-foot-3, 238-pound frame, Inoki took reporters and photographers through the plush, seven-room suite Ali will occupy. He said the inspection tour was "to ensure they benefit a personality of Ali's standing."

"I normally wouldn't have to provide the best room for anybody, but I feel Ali is the best fighter in boxing, so I should do this for him."

Inoki pounded on the mattresses, stretched out on the bed to check its length, and admired the 41st-floor view of Tokyo.

"Yeah, it's okay," he said.

Inoki said he told Ali to bring crutches and slings in response to a message he received from the heavyweight boxing champion which read: "I am in the best condition ever, both physically and mentally, in my entire career. I have developed and perfected my strategy for shattering the pelican's Inoki was nicknamed "pelican" by Ali when he saw the wrestler's prominent jaw.

"I don't consider my jaw weak," Inoki said. "It has served me well the 33 years of my life and I think it could take a few of Ali's punches."

And when asked for a prediction on the length of the bout, Inoki replied: "I'm not going to brag like somebody else. We won't know until we have the fight and see what happens."

"But if you insist, on pressing the point, let me know what round you would like him disposed of in, and I'll try to accommodate you."

The match is scheduled for 15 three-minute rounds, with Ali using four-ounce gloves, half the weight he usually wears, and Inoki fighting bare-handed.

The referee will be Gene Lebell of Los Angeles. The two judges, one boxing-oriented and the other wrestling-oriented, will be named soon.

ABC gets Olympics

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — United States television rights for the 1980 Olympic Games at Lake Placid, N.Y. have been awarded to the American Broadcasting Company, it was announced Friday.

In a wire to ABC, the International Olympic Committee said its decision had been made after the IOC financing committee "had given ample opportunity to the other American networks, namely CBS and NBC, to make an offer."

The IOC said its choice of ABC was guided by three factors. They were: "The quality demonstrated by ABC in the televising of past Olympic Games, particularly Munich and Innsbruck."

The preliminary study made by ABC on the technical facilities to cover the Games.

"The fact that they will act as coordinating broadcaster for the rest of the world, thus offering all other broadcasters a basic signal and facilities."

Football on TV helps attendance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lifting of the local television ban on National Football League games significantly increased the sale of season tickets, the Federal Communications Commission told Congress Friday.

In its third annual report on the effect of the sports antitrust law, the FCC said an analysis of season-ticket sales indicates the law has not adversely affected those sold by all 26 NFL teams.

"Contrary to the NFL's position on this issue, the results indicate that season ticket sales actually increased significantly when fans were able to see locally televised home games played during the preceding season," the report says.

"This is not particularly surprising. The more television exposure a team receives, the greater the interest on the part of the fans. Moreover, since many people prefer to watch games live, that growing interest is

Mrs. Breer, who joined the tour in 1958, fired a two-under-par 70 in hot, humid weather for a one-stroke lead over Pat Bradley in a bid for the $12,000 first prize in the 54-hole tournament.

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — Five riders were thrown from their horses Friday in a spill that involved nearly half the field in the second race at Calder Race Course.

Four escaped injury, but veteran Jack Fieselman was taken to North Shore Hospital with face and head injuries.

The chain of accidents started when Carefree Carrie, the first mount ever for apprentice Gustav Rodriguez, bore out and clipped the heels of Najia as the two horses fought for the lead on a sloppy track.

Carefree Carrie fell and Smart Town and Dove Creek Lass fell over Carefree Carrie. Holly Francis and Amazing Romance then stumbled and unseated their riders.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Pacers would choose Kentucky Colonels center Artis Gilmore first if Kentucky and St. Louis players are made available to the remaining four American Basketball Association teams in a merger with the NBA, Pacers Coach Bobby Leonard said Friday.

"How they would be dispersed hasn't been decided. But, yes, Artis would be our first choice," said Leonard, coach of the Pacers since 1968 and winner three ABA championships.

Aztecs go for 10th

LOS ANGELES — The Aztecs will be going after their 10th consecutive home-field victory when the Vancouver Whitecaps come to El Camino College at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The game will be broadcast live on radio station KKOP, 93.5 FM, with Dave Greene at the mike.

Aztecs players will be available to sign autographs between 6:15 and 6:45 at the stadium this evening.

The 1-0 victory over Portland ran the Aztecs winning streak at ECC to nine games and was especially significant since the Timbers were the last team to defeat Los Angeles at home.

Goalkeeper Graham Horn recorded his third shutout of the season (all at El Camino) and made it the sixth shutout of the nine victories.

George Best scored his fourth goal of the year, and each of the four has been a game-winning goal. Said Best, "We needed the win to get our confidence back. Now we're ready to go after goals."

Coach Terry Fisher is also looking forward to higher goal-production now that his midfield situation is appearing brighter. "One person made a world of difference in the middle," he said, referring to the play of newcomer John Marsh who is teamed up with John Mason to stabilize the Aztecs midfield.

Vancouver will provide plenty of competition for the home team as they are presently leading the Western Division by eleven points. The Whitecaps will be sporting a 6-4 record.

The Aztecs will be trying to even the series between the two teams at three wins apiece. Los Angeles won the last meeting with a 1-0 victory at ECC.

Americans win doubles

PARIS (AP) — Sherwood Stewart and Fred McNair, a pair of American players who make up one of the world's best doubles teams, won the $10,000 French Open doubles championship Friday, beating Brian Gottfried and Raul Ramirez 7-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Stewart of Goose Creek, Tex., and McNair, who comes from Chevy Chase, Md., said they hoped the victory would bring them consideration for a spot on the U.S. Davis Cup team which has lost twice in the last three years to a Ramirez-led Mexican team.

Stewart, 30, and McNair, 24, came back from a 1-5 deficit in the tiebreaker that decided the first set.

Konstanty dies at 59

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — Jim Konstanty, one of the "Whiz Kids" pitchers on the Philadelphia Phillies team which won the National League pennant in 1950, died at Fox Hospital Friday at the age of 59.

Officials would not give a cause of death, and would only say Konstanty had been ill for an extended period of time.

Konstanty, who played for the Phillies from 1949 until 1954, was voted the league's Most Valuable Player the year his team won the pennant. He appeared in 74 games in 1950, still a club record. Konstanty won 16 games and lost seven that year.

A relief specialist, he was called on to start the opening game of the World Series and was beaten by the New York Yankees, 1-0.

They pulled even at 55, then faced a set point at 6-5 when Gottfried put away a smash, and finally took the set on a McNair backhand, an error by Ramirez and a smash by McNair.

In women's singles, Sue Barker of Britain advanced to the final Sunday by beating Virginia Ruzici of Romania 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Miss Barker was to face the winner of a match between Renata Tomanova of Czechoslovakia and Florentina Mihai of Romania.

Two American men, Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md. and Eddie Dibbs of Miami, held the United States chances for its first victory in the $210,000 tournament since 1955. Solomon was playing Ramirez and Dibbs was to face Adriano Panatta of Italy on Saturday.

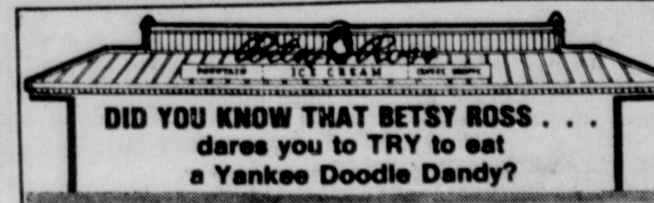

McNair, eliminated here in the second round of the singles, was remarkable at net, quickly stabbing volleys and slugging sharply angled smashes. Ramirez, who may have been saving himself for the semifinals, had two breaks on his service in the 6-3 second set. McNair and Sherwood broke Gottfried's service to lead 3-1 in the final set and won the next three games without any difficulty.

Although they are ranked the No. 2 doubles team in the United States behind Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, Stewart said he doubted Davis Cup Captain Tony Trabert even knew of them. "This gives us credibility," McNair said. "I'd like to be invited to some tournaments where we haven't been included, but the Davis Cup is the most important thing."

Stewart, who went out in the third round in the singles, explained the team's doubles success by saying "we're very complementary. I have the ability to return service low and Freddie is just so quick at the net. I'm the consistent one and Freddie is the guy who goes for broke."

The last time American men won the doubles here was in 1971 when Arthur Ashe teamed up with Martin Riessen.

Miss Barker dominated the Romanian girl with her forehand and better service but she seemed very unimpressed about the chances of winning the tournament from a field that was regarded as the weakest in many years. "I feel like I'm playing in a 'B' tournament. I just can't get excited about it," she said.

Myth exploded

Was Soviet, not U.S., first to test H-bomb

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Soviet Union exploded a hydrogen bomb about six months before the United States conducted its first H-bomb test in 1954, according to the authors of a new book excerpted in Sunday's editions of the Baltimore Sun.

And authors Stanley A. Blumberg and Gwynn Owinns said that although U.S. intelligence sources had proof of Russian experimentation with the bomb, the man who developed it for the United States was not informed of the Soviet progress.

The first American testing of nuclear fusion and thermonuclear devices took place on May 24, 1951, several months after the Soviets' first such test, the authors said. The first American bomb, called Bravo, was detonated on Feb. 2, 1954, nearly six months after the Russians tested their first deliverable H-bomb on Aug. 12, 1953, Blumberg and Owinns said.

In the excerpts from "Energy and Conflict: The Life and Times of Edward Teller" to be published in July, Blumberg and Owinns said U.S. intelligence officials made a "dangerously inept" mistake in not telling Teller, a developer of the H-bomb, about the Soviet experimentation until 1953.

They said Russian physicist Andre D. Sakharov, who developed the Soviet bomb, knew of American tests as early as 1950.

"The evidence is convincing that the Russians achieved not only the first experimental nuclear fusion on earth, but also produced the first deliverable hydrogen bomb," the authors said.

"To credit these achievements to another nation undoubtedly comes as a shock to most Americans, who have long taken it for granted that their country was first and that Edward Teller is the father of the H-bomb."

In writing the book, Blumberg and Owinns said they conducted lengthy interviews with U.S. scientists connected with Project Greenhouse, America's initial fusion experiment, and questioned Air Force personnel assigned to monitor nuclear explosions in the atmosphere during the 1950s.

Dr. Marvin Goldberger, chairman of the physics department at Princeton University, is quoted as saying the Atomic Energy Commission had proof of the Soviet experiments several months before Project Greenhouse was completed.

"It is well known that we had a very elaborate system to monitor nuclear explosions in the atmosphere. And that system was in existence many years before the explosion of the Soviet thermonuclear weapon," Goldberger said.

"It was on the basis of this collection system that the analysis was made and the diagnosis was complete and incontrovertible."

Blumberg and Owinns also talked to Air Force Maj. Theodore F. Walkowicz, part of the Scientific Advisory Group assigned to evaluate the monitoring system.

He said in early 1951 "there was a Russian shot fired that we did not understand. It was a Soviet atomic explosion and we did the usual thing of collecting air samples... It was understandable only in terms of assuming there had been a thermonuclear component. It wasn't a pure fission shot. There had been fusion involved in it."

Blumberg and Owinns said in the Sun's excerpts of their book that 25 years after the detonation of Project Greenhouse, U.S. intelligence officials continue to refuse to turn over documents on the Russian test.

"The surly guardians of military and scientific records have the truth under lock and key and even a quarter of a century later they do not see fit to reveal it to the American people," the authors said.

County reaches agreement with doctors on pact

LOS ANGELES (AP) — County officials have reached a tentative contract agreement with representatives of 1,200 interns and resident physicians who staged a three-day April walkout at three county hospitals.

Details of the new contract, called a "memorandum of understanding," were approved by bargaining agents for the county and the Joint Council of Interns and Residents.

Members of the organization voted on the contract Thursday night, and a spokesman said they appeared to be ratifying it by a substantial margin.

Dr. Mark Chassin, chairman of the council, said terms of the agreement were "not great," but represented what he and other negotiators felt was the best the county could offer at present.

He said the contract called for a 6 per cent money settlement, to be split evenly between salary increases and a $750,000 fund to improve patient-care conditions.

The fund, controlled by the interns and residents, stands at $1.1 million under terms of the previous contract. It is used to increase nursing staffs and to provide essential life-support equipment and other services.

The fund was created in 1975 as part of a settlement of another walkout and was the central issue in the latest negotiations, Chassin said.

The county wanted to abolish the fund, he said, and interns and residents wanted it to be continued.

Preservation

BOSTON (AP) — Some $2 million in federal funds will go to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts to help preserve its collections through improved climate control.

LAUGHING WITH THE LAWYER
— Colleen Gardner laughs with her attorney Sol Rosen at her mother's home in Arlington, Va.

Friday night. Gardner has accused Rep. John Young, D-Tex., of paying her $26,000 a year in return for sex.

Karen Quinlan moved to home

MORRIS PLAINS, N.J. (AP) — Karen Anne Quinlan, the comatose woman whose right to die became a celebrated court case, has been moved into tight security from St. Clare's Hospital in Denoille to the Morris View Nursing Home here.

Miss Quinlan was moved by ambulance late Wednesday. At least two patrol cars escorted the ambulance in a slow five-mile trip to the nursing home, where about 25 Morris County sheriff's deputies waited to keep away reporters.

The young woman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinlan, preceded the ambulance by a few minutes. Lights in the nursing home were put out as the couple arrived by car with their attorney, Paul Armstrong.

The ambulance backed up to the front door and deputies huddled as a stretcher covered by white sheets was carried into the county-run facility.

Miss Quinlan, 22, who has been in a coma for more than a year, was removed from the hospital through a seldom-used exit to a waiting ambulance manned by volunteers from Jefferson Township. The Quinlan family lives in Landing, which is some distance from Jefferson Township.

In a statement to reporters at the nursing home, Armstrong said: "The transfer was decided upon by Mr. Quinlan in the exercise of the authority granted to him by the state Supreme Court in its humane and farsighted judgment rendered on March 31."

In its landmark decision, the high court ruled Miss Quinlan's father could make arrangements to disconnect the hospital respirator that sustained her breathing. The respirator was removed May 22 and Miss Quinlan has been breathing on her own since.

Miss Quinlan entered the coma April 15, 1975, after apparently ingesting a combination of tranquilizers and alcohol. Doctors have said she has irreversible brain damage and is in a comatose vegetative state.

Osteopath, wife, son arraigned

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Highland Park osteopath charged with murdering 10 infants at his clinic has been arraigned along with his wife and son.

Municipal Court Judge Antonio E. Chavez Wednesday reduced the bail for Dr. Joseph Emory, 55, his 51-year-old wife, Harriet, and 32-year-old son, Alan, from $200,000 to $50,000 each. The defendants face a preliminary hearing July 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory, arrested at their clinic Monday, are each charged with 10 counts of murder, and Alan is charged with five.

The county Grand Jury began a closed-door inquiry into the clinic's operation Tuesday. Most of the patients were from low-income families, including many illegal aliens from Mexico.

Five infants specified in the complaint had been stillborn and five died shortly after birth, Deputy Dist. Atty. Dinko Bozanic said. He alleged death resulted from inadequate medical procedures and said the deaths occurred between July 12, 1973 and last Feb. 24.

Prototype

Perhaps the first vessel powered by twin-screw propellers similar to those that drive modern ships was the "Little Juliana," a steamboat invented by Col. John Stevens that chugged from New York to Hoboken in May, 1804.

Plural entity

The "Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union", adopted by the Continental Congress in 1777, did not establish a sovereign nation. The colonies, or states, delegated only those powers they could not handle individually, such as to wage war, establish a uniform currency, contract debts for general expense and make treaties with foreign nations. Taxes for payment of expenses were levied by the states. The confederacy was called "the United States of America," but considered in the plural, a cooperating group rather than a national entity.

A masterpiece of American architecture...Story on page 4

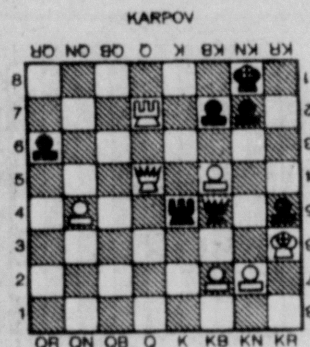

Shelby Lyman on chess

American aggressiveness

Some provocative comments were recently published in the British magazine Chess. According to M. Macdonald-Ross, a visitor to the California chess scene:

"American players are tough fighters . . . I had a chance to look at Grandmaster Walter Browne and the young American masters Kim Commons and John Grefe . . . Technically I'd say (the British players) Keene and Hartston are better equipped; but at the board, they cannot compare with the Americans in aggression."

If Mr. Macdonald-Ross is correct, wherein lies the cause of the phenomenon which he describes?

Is individual aggression more necessary for social and economic success in the U.S. than in Britain and therefore more available for expression in chess? And/or does chess reflect the overall sporting milieu, in which losing may be considered a shameful act?

America's next Grandmaster?

Kenneth Rogoff is considered by many to be the strongest of America's young chess players. An infrequent competitor, he nevertheless gained a surprising 2nd place in last year's U.S. Championship. This achievement, which automatically gave him a spot in the upcoming Philippine Interzonal Tournament, has led to a sharp rise in his over-the-board chess activity.

Recently he topped off a good year by finishing in a tie for first place in the annual international tournament in Orense, Spain. One more such result and he will become a grandmaster.

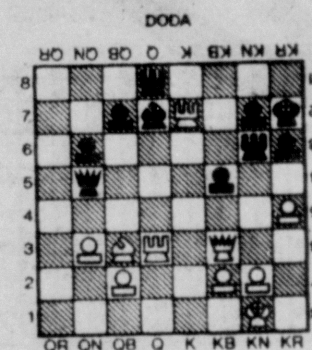

Below is a position from a game played by Rogoff last year against the Polish master Doda.

Here Rogoff made the move 32% Q-Q5!, thereby winning significant material. For 32 . . . QxQ is met by 33. RxQ and black is helpless against the threat of 34. RxB. (33 . . . R-Q3 fails to 34. RxB and a devastating discovered check on the next move).

Wooden apple basket—1882

By DOROTHY HAMMOND

QUESTION: How valuable might this nice old wooden apple basket be? It stands 16 inches high, and is in perfect shape. On its base is a faded blue stamp which includes the word "Massachusetts, Pat. Pending and the date, 1882."

I acquired the basket from an elderly antique dealer years ago and am curious to know what such an example might be worth today. C.O.

ANSWER: Between $35-$50. Although its shape isn't the most popular, the fact that it is dated makes it a rarity.

QUESTION: The only remaining piece from a large R.S. Prussia (red mark) chocolate set that once belonged to my grandmother is the tall chocolate pot. It is mint and beautiful. Pink and white blossoms decorate its shaded lavender background with satin finish. Can you give me any idea what such pieces sell for today without the cups and saucers. Mrs. M.S.A.

ANSWER: From about $200 to around $250.

QUESTION: Please tell me something about my old dome-shaped butter dish with a cow and dairy maid etched on the bottom. It has a separate heavy glass dish with a silver rim that fits into the bottom of the butter dish. It has a set of prongs which extend out to hold the butter spreader. The following markings are on the bottom: Wilcox Silver Plate Co., Meridan, Conn. Pat. Dec. 7th 1880. I do hope this information might enable you to also give me an estimate of value. I had this piece resilvered a few years ago. Mrs. N.C.

ANSWER: Although butter dishes were being made as early as 1855, it was not until the 1880s that they were produced in great number and variety. Examples like yours sell from about $75-$100.

QUESTION: I would like to know the value of two lovely nine-inch carnival glass plates we own. These are in mint condition and are not reproductions. Each bears the old Northwood mark. One plate is amethyst and it is decorated with embossed strawberries. The other is pastel green with the Northwood peacock. A.J.

ANSWER: Your amethyst plate is worth about $80, and the pastel (scarce), $225.

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

Just for the record, and contrary to what some folks may think, there actually was such a thing as crime in the streets of Pomona as long ago as the year 1908. But thanks to the courageous efforts of two men, Constable Frank O. Slanker and City Marshal Silas Wright, most of the criminals were speedily apprehended and punished for their crimes. A few excerpts from the Pomona police blotter, as reported in The Progress, will indicate how efficiently local law enforcement operated in those days. So now, without further ado, let's turn the Spotlight on Crime in Pomona back to that year 1908.

(December 15, 1908)

"Constable Frank O. Slanker arrested on Monday evening a crook of the worst type, detecting his man while in the act of shoplifting at the book store of W.C. Davidson on West Second street."

(December 18, 1908)

"Constable Slanker has made another important capture, this time a motorcycle thief who had stolen three wheels valued at $680."

And it was undoubtedly because of this rash of criminal activity that Pomona's City Marshal, Silas Wright, decided to issue the following request in the columns of The Progress.

"I would like to see every business man in Pomona leave a light burning in his store at night. The cost of all-night lights is trifling compared with the additional safety it gives. Nothing will discourage the operation of thieves in this city so much as the universal lighting of buildings at night."

So there you have it! On a per capita basis, if that is any consolation, crime in Pomona was probably just as much of a problem 68 years ago as it is today. And though we didn't have patrol cars, short wave radio and helicopters with which to combat it, at least we did have Constable Slanker and City Marshal Wright who, even at that early date, had progressed to the "burn a night light" stage in crime prevention.

GAMBLE HOUSE

.....a masterpiece of American architecture.....

Looming like an Oriental temple surrounded by tall trees, shrubbery and sweeping lawns on a quiet Pasadena street stands a 68-year-old mansion unique in the history of American architecture.

This is the Gamble House, built in 1908 for millionaire David B. Gamble, son of one of the founders of Proctor & Gamble, by Greene and Greene, internationally known Pasadena architects.

The structure has been termed by experts "a masterpiece of American architecture," combining as it does the innovative characteristics of what came to be known as the California bungalow style with Swiss styles and a strong influence of Japanese architecture.

Given by the Gamble family to the City of Pasadena and USC in 1966, the house is a Pasadena Cultural Heritage Landmark, a California Registered Historical Landmark and an entry in the National Park Service National Register of Historical Places. (The city maintains the grounds and gardens, and the Friends of the Gamble House, support group from USC, maintains the home and provides guided tours Tuesdays and Thursdays for $1.)

The highly individual character of the Gamble House emerged from the young architects' love for wood and appreciation of a variety of architectural styles. Henry and Charles Greene believed that a wooden structure should express the identity of each contributing part. Characteristic elements are heavy, hand-shaped beams supporting broad, overhanging eaves, projecting rafters, open sleeping porches, and a shingle-clad exterior stained to soft greens to blend with the landscape.

The interior of the Gamble House is done in solid teakwood, mahogany, maple and Port Orford cedar. Each peg, oak wedge, opening and fixture was designed into the whole. The woodwork is hand-rubbed to a glass-like finish.

The Japanese influence is noted in the repeated "tori arch" pattern, symbolizing a place of refuge and hospitality, in the "cloud fold," design in carved panels and in the lanterns that abound.

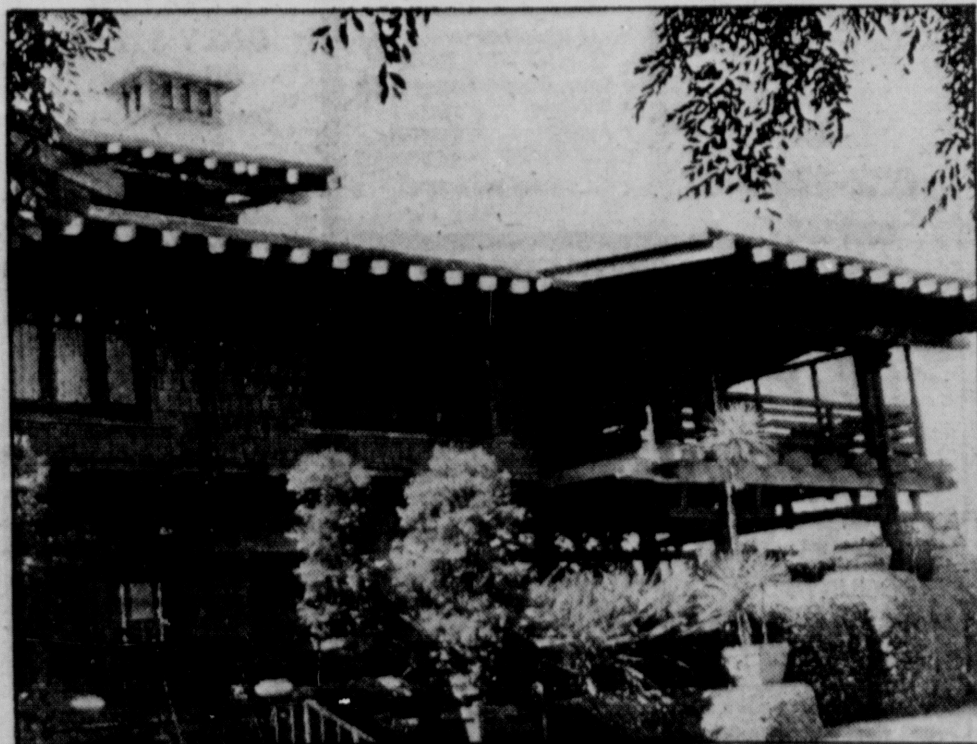

The house is completely furnished, from the English and German chinaware in the large Hand-carved bannisters are joined by wooden pegs.

ON THE COVER

The Gamble House in Pasadena, a California Registered Historical Landmark, reflects Swiss Japanese and California influences. Termed by experts "a masterpiece of American architecture," the 68-year-old home, lavishly furnished, is open to the public on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The house was given by the Gamble family to the City of Pasadena and the University of Southern California. The architects were Henry and Charles Greene.

Overhanging eaves, projecting rafters and open sleeping porches are characteristic of the Gamble House.

double-kitchen to the silver bedsteads made up with handsome Belgian linens. Much of the furniture was designed by the architects themselves.

The Gamble House was built in 10 months for $50,400, a vast sum for a home in the early years of the century. The price did not include the Persian carpets, the Greene furniture, the chandeliers, bronze lamps and iridescent glass fixtures.

The third floor of the building is taken up by the Greene and Greene Library, specializing in materials of the two brothers, but also containing material on the arts and crafts movement in 1908, local architecture and craftsmen of the period. It is open to students and researchers by appointment.

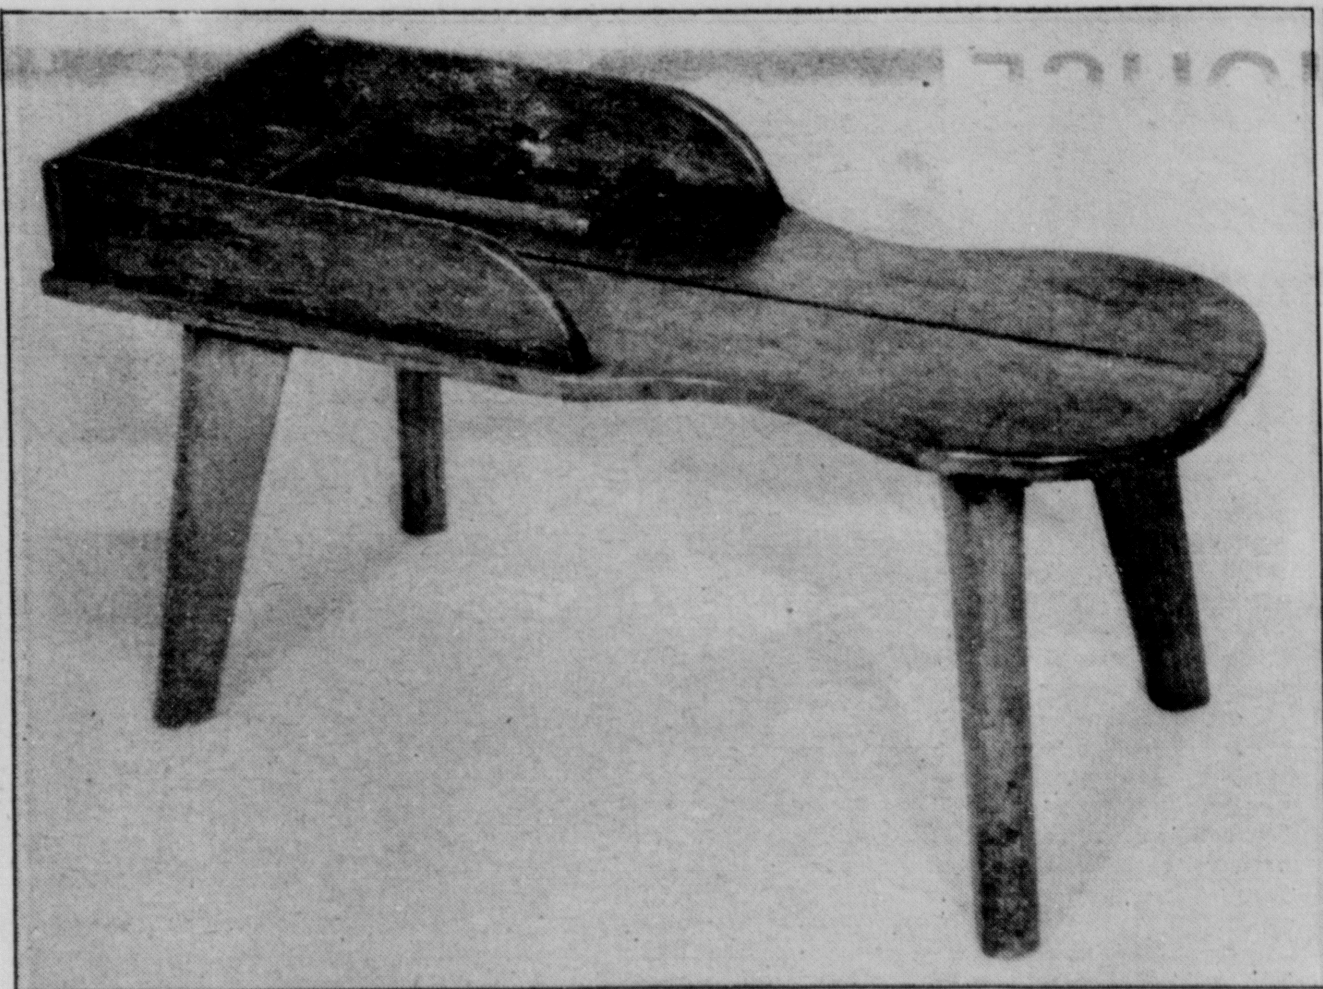

The guided tours of the building are offered by volunteer members of the Gamble House Docent Council.

Gamble House is at 4 Westmoreland Place, just off the 300 block of N. Orange Grove Boulevard.

Stamps in the news

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

The next couple of months will see a final thrust in issuing stamps and philatelic material honoring both the U.S. Bicentennial and the Summer Olympic Games in Montreal. Collectors are finding it difficult to keep up with the deluge from countries all over the world — but it's fun to try.

The U.S. has issued a Bicentennial mint set containing a collection of 30 mint U.S. stamps commemorating the 200th anniversary of independence. The 32-page, hard-cover, limited edition album is being sold at 103 post offices throughout the country and is also available by mail order from the Philatelic Sales Division in Washington. The price for the set is $7.50.

This mint set portrays the commemoration of the Bicentennial through text and illustrations related to the Bicentennial Era stamps contained in the set. These include such U.S. issues as the Boston Tea Party block of four stamps, the single stamps commemorating the Battles of Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill as well as the more recent Spirit of '76 strip of three. Color reproductions of the four Bicentennial Souvenir Sheets issued May 29 and the Declaration of Independence strip of four to be issued July 4 are included in the mint set.

Should you wish to order by mail, send your requests to "Bicentennial Mint Set, Philatelic Sales Division, Washington, D.C., 20265." Remittance of $7.50 plus 50 cents for handling should be by money order.

In the Bicentennial mood, the British are invading Philadelphia again. This time it's INTERPHIL 76, about which we have commented many times previously. Queen Elizabeth II has authorized the display of her Royal Stamp Collections in the competitive class. British entries at the exhibition are second only to the U.S. private collections from 45 different countries which will be seen at INTERPHIL May 29-June 6.

To honor the U.S. Bicentennial, the British Post Office will issue a commemorative stamp portraying Benjamin Franklin. The new stamp will have its first day of issue simultaneously June 2 in Great Britain and at INTERPHIL 76.

The U.S. Postal Service will complete its 1976 commemorative stamp program with two new issues scheduled for July and September release.

A block of four 13-centers will salute the 1976 Olympic Games, with each stamp featuring a different Olympic event — diving, skating, cross-country skiing and track. The set will be issued in July.

Do-it-yourself A Bicentennial furniture piece

By STEVE ELLINGSON

When you were a child, you probably sang those immortal words . . . "all around the cobbler's bench, the monkey chased the weasel." Did you ever wonder what a cobbler's bench looked like? Well, this handsome piece of Americana harks back to America's colonial days when shoemaking was done by hand. Patterned after replicas of early American cobbler's benches in the Smithsonian Institution, this unique piece of furniture can double as a coffee table.

And when you see how easy it is to build, you'll want it in your home, especially this Bicentennial year. We built the bench pictured using pine, but you may choose any wood. All you do is trace our full-size pattern on wood, saw out the parts and assemble. There's a list of required materials on each pattern, along with a simple step-by-step set of directions.

To obtain the full size Cobbler's Bench Pattern 60, send $1.25 (includes first class postage and handling) by cash, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, c/o Pomona Progress Bulletin Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

New! Our PATTERNS FOR BETTER LIVING Book picturing over 500 woodworking and handicraft projects for your leisure time . . . $1 (add 25 cents for postage).

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

Some 86 changes and 480 words were deleted from the Declaration of Independence by the Continental Congress after a committee of members from the Congress submitted it for review June 28, 1776. Thomas Jefferson, the Declaration's author, termed the alterations "deplorable" and especially took umbrage over Congress' refusal to condemn the British crown for "fostering slavery," a practice Jefferson considered "an execrable commerce," reports the World Almanac.

Here's the answer

Q — Ever since we had storm windows put up on our house, the condensation on the inside windows has ended, but now it takes place on the storm windows. What's the problem?

A. — It means that warm, moist air from inside the house is getting to the storm windows, resulting in condensation. Take steps to make the inside windows airtight or drill a few holes in the frame of the storm windows so the moist air can escape.

Q. — We are having a house built. The attic is being left unfinished, as we intend to do this ourselves in a couple of years. Can pipes be run right up into the attic but not connected so that they can be used at any time if we decide to put in a bathroom?

A. — Yes. And it will be a lot less expensive if the site of the planned bathroom is directly above the one on the lower floor.

Tom Payne's International Mobile Homes at 4480 Holt Blvd., Montclair, now is conducting its semi-annual display model clearance sale.

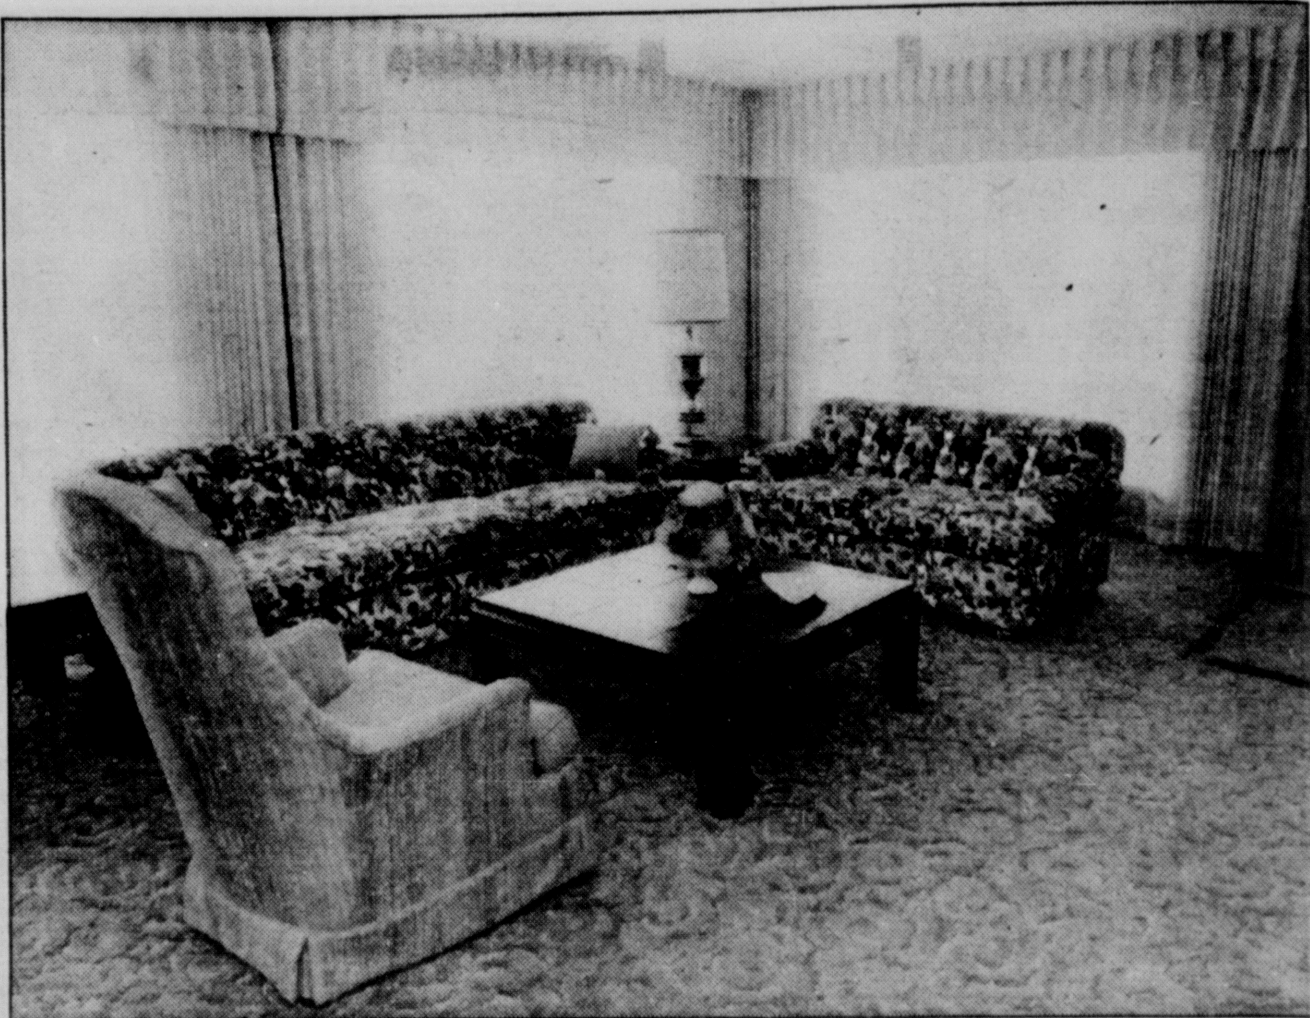

Visitors will be shown the various models which are being offered for sale at a reduced price.

Shortly, Payne said, he will be adding to the Silvercrest line he displays a 10 by 32-foot tag-a-long which, when attached to the side of a mobile home, makes a huge family room or master bedroom.

These units are under construction now, he explained.

In addition to the decorated mobile homes displayed at 4480 Holt Blvd., Montclair, Payne also has a sales office at Lake Serranos Park, 15111 Pipeline Ave., Los Serranos.

Mobile home living offers country club style at reasonable cost, Payne claims, and he adds his business is "The best place we know to buy a mobile home."

The living room in the Chalet, at the front of the mobile home, is light, cheerful and spacious.

Where variety, quality, economy come together

Models he displays offer from 960 to 2,016 square feet of living space, with more than 90 floor plans. Margaret Ingham and Don McCabe are on the sales staff.

"We make a profit on every home we sell," said Payne, "but we know of no other dealer who sells a good quality home for less. We try and get as much for our buyer's dollar as possible.

"We have a good reputation in the valley; ask any park manager.

"We have our own service and setup people. When service is needed we do give service — ask any of our customers.

"We try to help buyers select homes that fit their needs. We do not try to sell them homes. We have the best sales counselors in the mobile home business."

Payne also specializes in mobile home insurance.

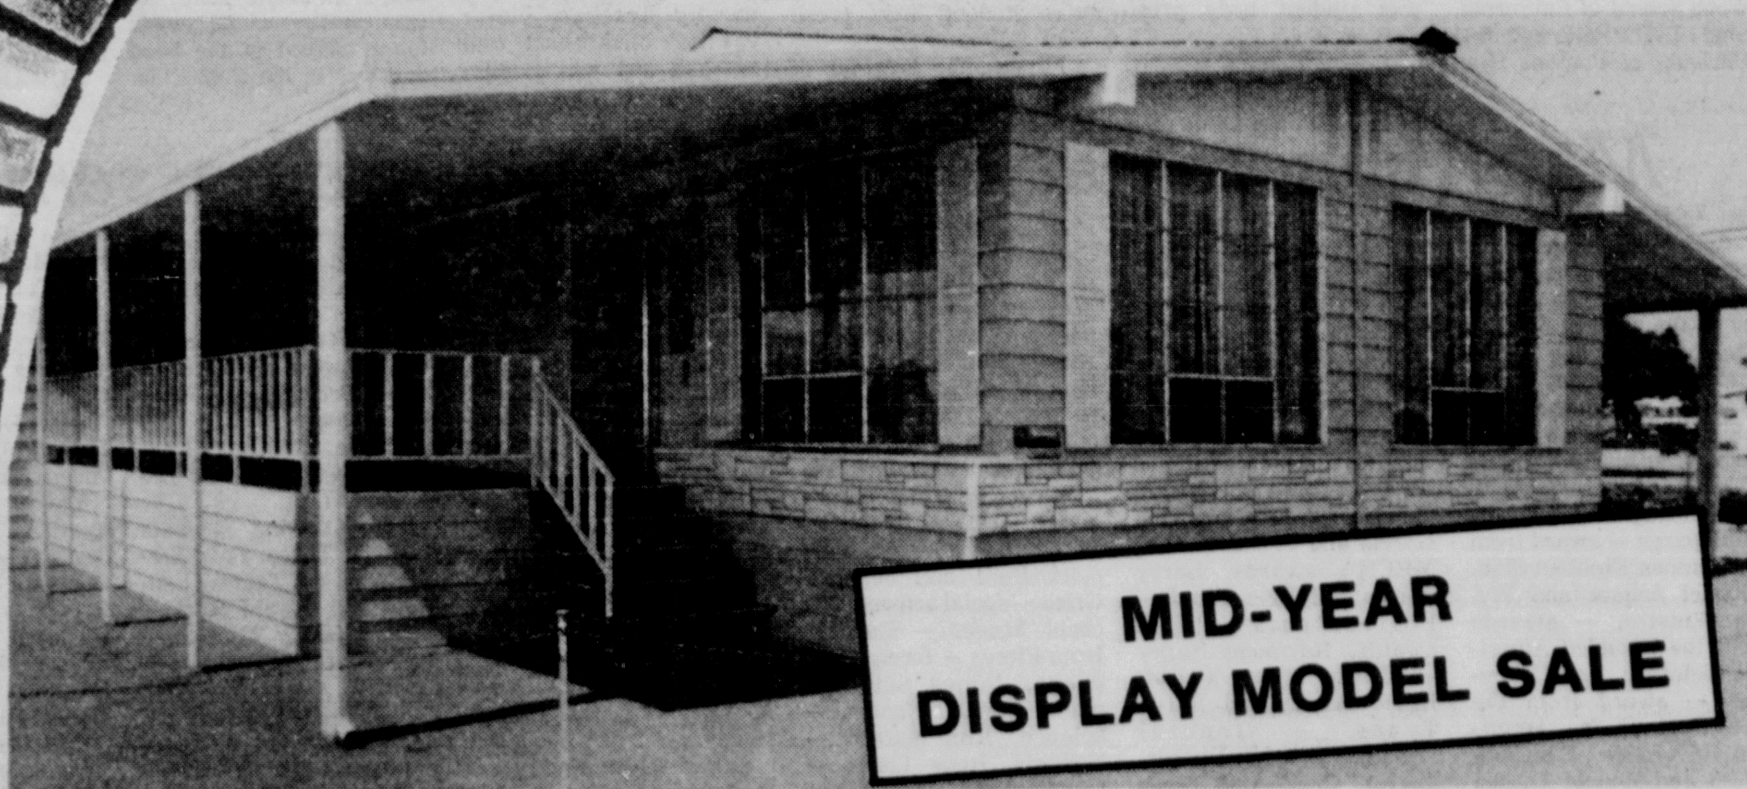

Payne has been in business in the valley eight years. His partner is his wife, Irma. They live in a mobile home at Lake Serranos Park, which they describe as secure, low-cost luxury.

In addition to a dining area, the Chalet includes this spacious kitchen bar for convenient serving.

Sally Field has been signed to star in the title role of "Sybil," a four-hour NBC World Premiere movie which goes into production next month. The film is based on the best-seller of the same name by Flora Rheta Schreiber.

Joanne Woodward was cast earlier as Dr. Cornelia Wilbur, the psychiatrist who treated Sybil, a woman with 16 personalities.

Field has starred in the title roles of three TV series, The Girl With Something Extra (with John Davidson), Gidget and The Flying Nun. She has appeared in the TV movies "Maybe I'll Come Home in the Spring," "Marriage Year One" and "Hitched." Her feature films include "The Way West" and the current release, "Stay Hungry."

"Sybil" will be filmed partly on location in New York City and primarily in Hollywood.

The Kojak series, starring Telly Savalas as a New York City homicide Detective Lieutenant, is scheduled to shoot 10 hours of programs in New York City, starting this summer. The series, which is entering its fourth season on CBS, airs on Sundays at 9 P.M.

"We feel that New York is extending us a number of important courtesies and that filming there will give the show a more realistic look," said James McAdams, producer of the popular series. "Location work on a show of this type is a real plus to the impact of the drama."

Dan Frazer as Capt. McNeil, Kevin Dobson as Det. Crocker, and George Savalas as Stavros co-star with Savalas, who plays Theo Kojak, a flamboyant detective operating in the tense and complex world of a New York homicide unit.

Shirley MacLaine and CBS have reached an agreement under which Miss MacLaine will star exclusively on the Network for a period of three years.

This year, Miss MacLaine starred in one of the most acclaimed television specials of any season, "Gypsy in My Soul," on the Network. It received the Emmy Award as Outstanding Comedy-Variety or Music Special. Last season, Miss MacLaine headlined another Emmy Award-winning special, "If They Could See Me Now."

This winter and spring, she has been appearing in her own musical show, "Shirley MacLaine" — in an enormously successful tour of the United States, Latin America and European cities.

She was a chorus "Gypsy" in the hit musical "Pajama Game" in 1954, and understudy to the late Carol Haney. During the show's run, Miss Haney was hospitalized and Miss MacLaine went on.

Miss MacLaine's motion picture career began in 1955, and her many films soon vaulted her into the rank of Hollywood star. She received Oscar nominations for "Best Actress" three times: for "Some Came Running," "The Apartment" and "Irma la Douce."

She is the author of two best-selling books, "Don't Fall Off the Mountain" and "You Can Get There From Here." Her documentary film, "The Other Half of the Sky: A China Memoir," about her 1975 visit to China with a delegation of American women, was nominated for an Academy Award.
